Greetings .....

Thank you for joining us in this gala celebration of Music and Art. Tonight's program features the works of area artists, local bakers and the songs, rhythms and healing of Ubaka Hill and the talented ShapeShifters.

Art and music speak to the hearts and souls of all who will be open to their messages. And we at Calvary St. Andrew's find great sustenance, spiritual grounding and rejuvenation in the arts throughout the year.

Calvary St. Andrew's Parish is a joint Presbyterian-Episcopal congregation committed to the highest ideals of justice and empowerment. We live that commitment through ministries of compassion and justice as outlined in the following pages.

This year's Music & Arts Festival is just one example of how that commitment touches the lives of those in the community, in our congregation, and beyond, into the greater Universe.

So again, sit back and relax ... Enjoy yourself ... Let yourself be transported to that sacred space which speaks to you, and where you find the One who travels with us on our journeys. The One who always invites us to a greater, richer and fuller understanding of Self and our Creator.

Shalom,

1997 Music & Arts Task Force

BEVERLY HENDRICK

LIVING in Rochester, at the end of Upton Park (University Ave. area), Beverly Hendrick's house rises like an oasis in the desert. Collecting what others might call "junk," Beverly creates art in cast iron pipes and other unlikely places through the use of objects discarded by others. Dried flowers, old photos and throw-aways find means of speaking to the soul, often not found in more conventional artwork. To Beverly, juxtaposition is definition, and the result for the viewer is an experience that touches the root of the soul. Whether a collage or a single piece arranged to strike a provocative pose, Beverly's creations are unique and call us to see through different eyes, to gain new perspective on our world and, indeed, on ourselves.

Louisa & Yongwoo Kim

The Paper Bead Company was first started in September, 1993 by husband and wife Yongwoo and Louisa Kim. They decided that the little known craft of paper bead rolling/making could be improved and made into quality beads equal to any other conventional beads such as stone, glass, wood, ceramic, metal, etc. After many months of experimentation with different types of paper, paints and varnishes, they came up with a product that they felt could be presented to the public. They create beads that are hard, durable and waterproof. Louisa and Yongwoo have been selling their paper bead jewelry in craft shows and wholesale shows around the country. Louisa and Yongwoo have won a first place award at the Canandaigua Waterfront Art Festival and a second place at the Lilac Art Show. We are very pleased to have their jewelry displayed at the 1997 CSA Music and Arts Festival.

Louise Scahill

Louise Scahill (or Louie, as she is called) is a native of Rochester. Born of Sicilian immigrants, Louie, by way of depth and creativity, carries her cultural heritage into her works. Although she has had no formal training in painting, her medium, Louie expertly captures a sense of place and the mood of a subject. The skill of her brushstrokes is offset by the honesty and rawness of her paintings which clearly originate from an inner source. Though the demands of family and work take much of her time, Louie regularly produces a rich and varied body of paintings.

U ba ka (oo-bah-kah), native to NYC, has performed for various communities and venues throughout the U.S. for over twenty years. Her creative expression is a kaleidoscope of melodic rhythms played on various hand drums and percussion instruments. Her musical ideas are rooted in creative innovation and inspired by the music of different traditions. Through songs, poetry, chant and stories her resonating voice transports images that tell stories of courage, healing, positive social change and personal growth and joy. The Drum — the Heart — always the center.

Paula M. Boronell

Paula M. Boronell holds a Master of Fine Arts degree in Textile and Textile Design from Rochester Institute of Technology and a Bachelor of Arts degree from Long Island University in Psychology. Fiber and textile have always been an integral part of her life since she was a child. Her grandmother was a quilter. Fabric, patterns and sewing were among her toys and playthings. For most of Paula's adult life, she has taken art classes at various institutions in and around New York City, including F.I.T., the School for Visual Arts, the Art Students' League and Montclair State College. At first, she had kept "art" firmly separated from fiber and textile, but at the point of her Master's degree, she realized that the two were parts of the whole. "As one of the fundamental substances we encounter," she writes, "fiber is a superb medium of expression." And for her, basic fiber and technique is an antidote to the socially complex and cold technological world we all face. Calvary St. Andrew's Parish welcomes Paula to her first Music and Arts Festival with us.

Calvary St. Andrew's Parish

. . . where tradition meets today

Calvary St. Andrew's Parish is a merged Presbyterian-Episcopal congregation located in Rochester's South Wedge neighborhood. The cornerstone of our building was laid in 1873 and our congregation's roots extend back to 1847. Yet we've always combined the strength of tradition with the freedom to question, challenge and change old ways in light of new understanding.

Living Out Our Beliefs

We strive to share God's love by working in and beyond our own community for justice and reconciliation in our world.

Our parish outreach includes

- –food ministry
- –health ministry
- –Star Group for developmentally disabled members of our parish
- –Rainbow Kids group for neighborhood children
- –sister parish relationship with the community of Banica in the Dominican Republic

We are a More Light congregation, working actively for full inclusion of all people in all ministries of the Church, regardless of their sexual orientation.

Celebrating God's Love

We come from many different racial, ethnic, economic and religious backgrounds. We are young and old, men and women, gay and straight. We are drawn together by a belief in the goodness of creation and the dignity of every human being.

Our services reflect our beliefs. They are celebrations marked by

- –informality
- –lively music of all kinds
- –inclusive language
- –positive messages that focus on the image of a loving God.

Special celebrations throughout the year include a Healing Service for the Earth each spring, an outdoor service and picnic in June, and a Music and Arts weekend in October.

Members of our congregation actively participate in services as choir members, readers, communion servers, and prayer leaders.

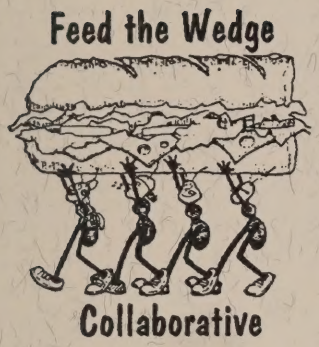
ANTOINETTE ELDERKIN is a freelance Lighting Designer, Visual Artist and Technical Director. She was previously Technical Director and Resident Lighting Designer at Dance Theater Workshop in New York City from 1990-91. Before that she was Technical Director at the Pyramid Arts Center, Inc. from 1985-90 here in Rochester. Toni has toured extensively throughout the U.S. as well as Europe and Southeast Asia and has worked with many performers such as DanceBrazil, Garth Fagan, Urban Bush Women, Blue Man Group, Spaulding Gray, Karen Finley, LadyGourd Sangoma, Rusted Root, and many others. Toni is glad to be freelancing in the Rochester area again. We are grateful to her for her work on the '97 Music and Arts Festival & her many volunteer hours at CSA.



For over 20 years, Calvary St. Andrew's (CSA) and St. Joseph's House of Hospitality (SJHH) have worked in this neighborhood to meet the needs of area residents. Through networking with groups like Foodlink and the Abbey of the Genesee (who make Monk's bread) as well as government and private funders, these groups have made sure that food is available to those who need it. With many of the cutbacks in programs over the last few years, the demands on these programs have increased.
